Enthusiastic Audience Greets Lions Show

The Variety show staged by the Lions Club last week was greeted by a crowded house of enthusiastic music lovers, and the aim of $100 to aid in buying amplifier equipment for the Opera House was more than realized by the proceeds of the evening.

The program had been arranged by Jos. MacLean, and M. T. King was Master of Ceremonies and he kept the crowd laughing between numbers by some joke no some of the Club members. Local talent provided most of the program and consisted f solos, quartettes, instrumental numbers and Hill-Billy numbers & tap dancing all added to the variety of the show.

Mrs. Elsie Persson of Lethbrige, and her violin, accompanied by Miss B. Livingstone at the piano furnished six numbers and graciously responded to all encores almost demanded by the enthusiastic applause. The work of this artist on the violin was really a treat for everyone and her numbers from the light airy ones to the classics were all equally enjoyed by the large crowd present.

Jacks Win South Alberta Playoffs

Playing in the fifth and final game of their playoff series, for the Southern Alberta Senior Basketball championship, the Raymond Union Jacks, perennial Alberta champions took the Magrath Lions into camp on the short end of a 58-39 score Wednesday night after 40 minutes of hectic play witnessed by a crowd that almost pushed out the walls of the Opera House, there being 615 paid admissions to the game according to one count.

With the championship at Stake, both teams went on the floor determined to win and they were taking no chances playing an air tight defence all the way through. At the half time mark the score was 24-24 and it was not until the last part of the 3rd quarter and the final period that the Jacks commenced to lengthen the count between the two teams, emerging with a nineteen point advantage at at the final gong.

Bourne for Raymond who went the whole way for the Jacks was top scorer for the night with 22 points to his credit snaring the ball from all quarters and sinking it with deadly accuracy. Next was Nalder of the Jacks with 14, gathered before he was shooed to the showers for his quota of personals. Turner for the Jacks and Rice for the Lions were not with 12 points each.Magrath lost Rice and Toomer for personals, Nalder being Raymond's only casualty. Most of the players on both sides had almost filled their quota of fouls before the final whistle.

Roffson and Fletcher had the whistles again and nearly run themselves todeath keping up with the speed of the game, 20 personals were called against Raymond and 17 against Magrath during the ply. Raymond will now meet the winners of the Calgary-Edmonton playoffs for the Alberta crown.

Following is the lineup and scores of the teams:

Lions—Rice, 12, Hamilton, 7, B. Sabey 5, D. Sabey 2, Toomer 10, Spencer 2, Cardwell, Sloan, Total 39.

Jacks—Nalder 14, Bourne 22, Turner 12, Rolfson 4, Mickelson 6, H. Walker, R. Walker, Hill, Evans, Dunlop and Heggie, Total 58.

The Red Cross Must Go ON

Although the war in Europe is drawing to a successful conclusion, the work of the Canadian Red Cross will not decrease with the surrender Rather the responsibilities of the Society will become heavier because considerable help must be given to the peoples of the liberated countries who have suffered so much during the period of occupation.

Relief authorities estimate that there are over 17,000,000 persons destitute and homeless in the freed areas. Many of them are suffering from diseaseand their children are victims of malnutrition. The Canadian Red Cross, along with other relief agencies have shipped clothing and food to these people, but more and more must be sent if the real victims of war, the civilians, are to be saved to help build a better world.

In raising the money for the relief in the liberated countries, the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund is collaborating with the Red Cross so that the maximum amount for this work can be obtained as quickly as possible. And by adopting this system, one less national appeal will be made to the Canadian people this year.

In addition to helping the liberated nations, the Red Cross must continue to provide comforts for our forces, both in the field and in hospitals. Until be some time after the surrender before our prisoners in the Far East will be free.

The Red Cross Blood Donors Service must be continued, for as long as there are Canadian troops in action there will be a need for life-saving blood serum. Here again, the Pacific theatre of war cannot be overlooked.

All in all, there is no situation that can arise this year that will lessen the responsibilities of the Canadian Red Cross. Rather the responsibilities are more likely to be greater than ever.

BLOOD DONORS DO BIG WORK

Since the Canadian Red Cross inaugurated its Blood Donor Service, 1,800,000 blood donations have been taken at 400 clinics throughout Canada, according to Red Cross reports. Dried blood serum that has been rushed to many parts of the world has resulted in the saving of thousands of lives.

In the blood banks of Britain, victims of robot bombing and the great Blitzes have been given a second chance to live. In the freezing cold of the Russian steppes and the heat of the Burma jungles, blood serum has been made available. The civilian victims of war's cruelty and many an Allied fighting man owe their lives to these Canadian blood donations.

"I'd never had any contact with the Red Cross until I was wounded," said Lieut. Steinberg, a former Kitchener, Ontario, boy now convalescing at Westminister Hospital in London, Ontario.

Wounded painfully in the abdomen while with a Canadian division overseas, Lieut. Steinberg was operated on at a field dressing station by Major Billsman of Winnipeg in the R.C.A.M.C. So serious was his condition that he could not be moved for three weeks. Unable to eat, he was given alternate injections of blood and glucose.

"I saw the boys given blood serum," he said. "I watched it pull the mount of shock. Undoubtedly many, many lives were saved." His outfit was surrounding a Shceldt pocket when he was wounded. At the casualty clearing station, ten miles back of the big guns, he saw the Red Cross girls dispensing cigarettes and comforts, he related.

The seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aziel Stevenson has been ill this week with rheumatism which the doctor thinks was caused by a bad teeth.

His Red Cross Mother

FIGHTING through the mud and icy slush of flooded battlefields, our boys in the front line have learned to bless the tens of thousands of devoted women who labor as volunteer workers for the Red Cross.

Through five years of war, these Canadian "Blue Smock" workers have knitted hundreds of thousands of pairs of socks . . . made millions of other comforting articles of clothing packed millions of Red Cross food parcels. Other specially-trained volunteer women serve as drivers, as nursing aides, as office workers and dietitians.

Freely giving their time and labor, these hard-working volunteers make your Red Cross dollars stretch farther. Thanks to their efforts, each dollar you give is multiplied three times in the value of food, clothing and medical supplies it buys.

GIVE—and give generously, to support their selfless work. Let your contribution to the Canadian Red Cross be the token of your thanks to these devoted women who serve in very truth, as "another mother" to your boy, or your friend or neighbor in the fighting line.

TIME LOST THROUG STRIKES AND LOCKOUTS

A total of 31,142 man working days were lost during January, 1945 in 16 strikes involving 5,435 workers the Department of Labour announced today. The figures show a 3 p.c. increase over January, 1944, when 23,408 days were lost in 26 strikes involving 8,140 workers.

More than 76 p.c. of the total time lost was due to the walk-out of street railway employees at Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, B.C., where 2,454 workers in the three cities took part in a ten-day strike which caused a total loss o f24,500 man working days.

One strike, involving 26 workers, was carried over from December 1944, and 15 new strikes commenced during the firstmonth of this year. Of the total, 16 were terminated and one—a claimed lockout of coal miners at Robb, Alberta—was recorded as unterminated at January 31.

WHAT is the attitude of the life insurance companies toward policyholders cashing in on their policies?

ANSWER: They do everything they can to avoid such policy surrenders. They have special departments devoted to the conservation of existing business and they recognize that their best agents in the field are those who help people to keep themselves and their families protected.

But don't cash values in policies encourage surrenders?

ANSWER: They shouldn't. The cash value privilege should be used only in cases of real need when sudden misfortune may force a man to raise all the money he can. His life insurance is one place to which he can turn. If the need is not too extreme he can obtain a loan on his policy and so keep his insurance in force. Because of the cash value and loan benefits in policies many a home has been kept together, many a business saved in time of storm and stress.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES

The Family Allowance Act becomes effective on 1st of July, 1945, it is, therefore, of the utmost importance that all births which have occurred during the past 16 years be registered.

As payment of the allowance depends upon registration it would be advisable for parents to make sure that their children's births are on record in the bureau.

You are advised to attend to this at the earliest opportunity so as to avoid congestion and delay in the Edmonton Office due to last minute applications.

The fee for a search for each registration of birth is 50 cents. If a certificate is desired the fee is one dollar. All enquiries should be accompanied by the required fee and addressed to:

FRENCH PATRIOTS

The young lady on the right in this picture is an important person who ought to be known to Canadians. She is Miss Vera Lindsay, producer of the BBC's Radio News reel, heard nightly at 11:00 p.m. CDT, on CBC's Trans Canada network. Miss Lindsay is seen here with three young Frenchwomen who worked in the underground movement in Fraace during the German occupation. When a group of these girls came to England a while ago for a visit, they were able to renew acquaintances with members of the R.A.F. who had been shot down over France during the occupation, and whom they had helped to hide fro mthe Gestapo.

Dormancy in Seeds

Seeds of some crops will germinate within a few days after harvest. Others remain dormant for some weeks or even months. Seeds of many common weeds may remain dormant in the soil for years, despite the fact that conditions of moisture, temperature and aeration may be suitable for germination. Farmers often have reason to wish that wheat and barley seeds would remain dormant much longer than they do, because losses from sprouting in the stook and swath are considerable. Longer spells of wet weather are usually required to induce oats to germinate in the stook.

The results of a germination test should indicate the percentage of live seeds capable of producing vigorous seedlings. If some seeds remain dormant the germinating ability of the sample will be underestimated. For this reason, all properly equipped laboratories subject seed samples to a pre-chilling treatment which usually 'breaks' the dormancy.

This year, due to peculiar weather conditions, a good many samples, particularly of oats, have remained dormant longer than usual and pre-chilling has not always completely overcome the dormancy. After the usual germination test, dead seeds can usually be distinguished from dormant ones. After finding a good many dormant seeds, we retested a number of samples and prolonged the pre-chilling period. The germination was increased, sometimes by a wide margin Our patrons have, of course, all been informed.

Farmers who made home germination tests earlier in the season and obtained poor results should retest.

KNOW the TRUTH about the C. C. F.

How do we know the C.C.F. will keep its promises if elected?

The C.C.F. in Saskatchewan promised to start FREE Health Services if elected.

They immediately brought Old Age Blind Pensions and Mental cases under FREE Medical, Surgical and Hospital care, as well as Widows and their children in receipt of Mother's Allowances and it is their intention to add to these until all Saskatchewan people will receive a completely FREE Health Service. The C.C.F. in the Federal field would keep it's promises just the same. Vote C.C.F. this time.
